

Michael F. Maloney, CPA, CFF, CFE

Curriculum Vitae

Mike is a leading expert in forensic accounting investigations, white-collar criminal and civil defense, and other matters involving complex accounting, auditing, financial reporting, and fraud issues. Mike served as Chief Accountant of the Division of Enforcement for the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission from 2014 to 2018. Prior to his work at the SEC, Mike's practice involved serving corporate, individual, and regulatory clients and their counsel across a wide range of industries, including work on SEC, PCAOB, and DOJ investigations, fraud and embezzlement matters, complex litigation matters, and practicing as an external auditor. He has testified as an expert, supported complex regulatory and settlement negotiations, and provided on-site support during depositions and trial. Mike also has experience testifying to financial damages in commercial litigation matters, and earlier in his career completed a 3-year assignment providing external audit and consulting services in Eastern Europe.

Mike served as an Adjunct Professor in the McDonough School of Business at Georgetown University, teaching MBA coursework in Forensic Accounting. He is a Certified Public Accountant, Certified in Financial Forensics, and a Certified Fraud Examiner.

Professional Experience

Prior to joining Credibility International in 2018, Mike was with: (1) the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission from 2014 to 2018, as Chief Accountant of the Division of Enforcement; (2) Navigant Consulting, from 2002 to 2014 as a director and managing director and leader of Navigant's Forensic Accounting practice; (3) Arthur Andersen, where he began as a staff auditor in 1986 and finished as a partner in 2002.

Chief Accountant – U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Division of Enforcement

As Chief Accountant of the SEC's Division of Enforcement from 2014 to 2018, Mike oversaw and advised the Division on all accounting, auditing, and financial reporting enforcement matters, as well as other fraud matters including FCPA investigations, Ponzi schemes, and investment frauds. During his tenure Mike advised on and participated in over 400 financial fraud enforcement matters publicly filed by the SEC as well as hundreds of additional ongoing financial fraud investigations. Mike provided leadership and support to the Division's approximately 100 accountants and legal investigative teams through advice, guidance, and involvement on individual enforcement matters, as well as facilitating communication, knowledge sharing, and training on emerging issues. In addition, he worked on significant policy issues within the Division and with other Commission staff including the SEC's Office of the Chief Accountant and the Division of Corporation Finance, and led the Division's coordination with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board's enforcement program. Mike also participated as an SEC representative on a multitude of public speaking engagements and conference panels. During Mike's tenure the SEC brought hundreds of financial reporting enforcement actions addressing a wide range of misconduct, including the following representative matters:

Michael F. Maloney, CPA, CFF, CFE

- A major oil-services company and two senior executives for fraudulently inflating earnings reported to investors by using deceptive income tax accounting
- A major petroleum company and three top executives for defrauding investors through an allegedly extensive, multi-year accounting fraud that moved hundreds of millions of dollars in expenses from operating expenses to capital accounts
- A major agriculture company and three executives for failing to recognize millions of dollars of rebate expenses for a flagship product in the period in which they occurred, resulting in materially misstated earnings over three years
- A for-profit educational institution and two senior executives for allegedly fraudulently concealing from investors the poor performance and looming financial impact of two student loan programs the institution financially guaranteed
- Four large accounting firms and numerous individual partners for professional failures in audits of clients that faced SEC actions
- A large accounting firm and three of its partners for auditor independence violations due to close personal relationships between auditors and client personnel

Forensic Accounting, Auditing and Financial Reporting Investigations, Litigation, and Defense Matters

Mike is a leading expert and consultant on a range of accounting, auditing, financial reporting, and fraud matters. His expert and consulting experience include matters involving allegations of accounting and securities fraud, violations of professional accounting, auditing, and SEC reporting standards and rules, FCPA investigations, Ponzi and other investment schemes, and asset misappropriation/embezzlement. His work has supported clients and their counsel in resolving issues with regulators, auditors, and other third parties, in both criminal and civil matters and independent investigations. He has been deeply involved in many high-profile accounting and securities fraud matters that occurred over the past two decades. Selected engagement experiences include:

Issues included analysis of funds flows through numerous entities, rebuttal of opposing expert reports, and supporting the preparation of an expert report.
- Hedge Fund Industry (2009 - 2012) - Led a team assisting a feeder/hedge fund group and its founder regarding investments it had with Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC. Issues included performing forensic accounting, damages, transactional, and reporting analyses regarding the Madoff Ponzi-scheme, and on-site support during arbitration hearings.
- Financial Services Industry (2009 - 2010) - Assisted in a matter involving an international financial institution, analyzing allegations of accounting and financial reporting fraud, and allegations that the institution was a Ponzi-scheme.

Auditing and Related Experience

In earlier stages of his career, Mike performed and supervised financial statement audits of both public registrants and private corporations, both domestic and international, in a wide variety of industries. He has had significant exposure to GAAP, GAAS (now PCAOB standards), and various international accounting standards through his audit experience. He also has experience performing accounting and financial due diligence for buyers and lenders in M&A transactions, performing accounting and financial analysis in corporate restructuring situations, and performing business valuations for a variety of purposes including litigation, M&A, and internal decisions.

Commercial Damages

Mike has calculated, analyzed and testified to general business and commercial damages, including in breach of contract, intellectual property, and other commercial disputes. His intellectual property matters have included patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret disputes involving lost profits, reasonable royalties and unjust enrichment. He has provided testimony in federal court and other forums on commercial and intellectual property damages and related issues. He also has experience in licensing and royalty matters involving underpaid royalties, license agreement issues, comparable royalty rate studies, royalty audits, and transfer pricing studies.

Insurance Claims

Mike has experience working on behalf of policyholders and insurance carriers to resolve complex insurance claim disputes through settlement and litigation. Subject areas have included 3rd party environmental, asbestos, product and toxic tort matters, and 1st party property damage and business interruption matters. His work on these matters has included insurance policy analysis and allocation, historical costs accumulation, future cost projections, reinsurance analyses, and business interruption and extra expense claims. He has provided deposition testimony and authored expert reports in insurance litigation matters, and has defended the results of his insurance claim analyses in settlement negotiations.
